

Bibliography

Eng. Sami H. O. Salih, graduate from Sudan University of Science Technology (SUST), department of electronics engineering (Oct. 2003). From that date he work on Elex department as teacher assistant, join KushIT as computer engineering, finishing military services and he join NTC (Telecom. Regulatory) as Telecom. Engineer since June 2005. He holds MSc. in Telecommunication Engineering, SUST (Feb. 2007).

During his career he participates in ITU/ICT Geneva, installing wireless network on the SENATE building in Burundi as well as many other Networks on different corporations. He become familiar with communication and computer networks such as LAN, IEEE, GSM, and 3G especially on wired and wireless network performance and QoS testing.

He is the President of the Sudanese IPv6 Task Force (SDv6TF), and he chairs the 2nd corresponding specialized group of IPv6 in the ITU.